Mission

SKILLAB'S MISSION

In a constantly-expanding market, it is not only efficiency that makes a company competitive - the development of its human resources also plays a crucial role.

SKILLAB aims to spread and develop a new training culture which will become a strategic and fundamental factor in adapting human resources to the changing world of work.

In its search for excellence and in line with the models that are currently being developed in the rest of Europe, SKILLAB is creating new ways of organizing, involving and developing workers within the company.